RICHMOND IMPROVING PROJECTS PROBABLE

Richmond will be included if the new projects are considered in Rivers and Harbors Bill. Committees in both houses are in favor of including new projects."

This atelegram received yesterday from Congressman C. F. Curry indicates that this city has an excellent opportunity to receive the much needed improvements. The only possible action which can doom the local project would be a national policy of throwing aside all improvements in favor of preparedness

OPPORTUNITY TO DISPENSE CHRISTMAS CHEER

Goodfellows attention!

Here is an opportunity for everyone blessed with a fair share of worldly goods to assist in making Christmas one long to be remembered by the unfortunates of the city.

The Social Service Bureau, which has accomplished great good in the aid of the needy, is making every preparation to dispense good cheer to those in need.

One important item in the list is toys for the children. The league is finding it difficult with its limited means to provide food and toys for all, and now here's the opportunity for some boys and girls to add considerable brightness and cheer to the Christmas of some of the needy.

Many of the boys [illegible] playthings and books [illegible] have been discarded. These [illegible] will be apreciated by some unfortunate child.

You get the idea, don't you?

Get into communication with either Mrs. C. S. Gibson, 429 Eleventh street or Mrs. John Gerlach, 13 Oregon avenue, point Richmond.

Powell's rabbit was among 450 rabbits of its class, and in its winning first prize, Powell is justly elated A silver prize was also awarded the big doe, which together wth several other blooded rabbits can be seen at Powell's hutches, 741 Tyenty first street.

'Prosperity Is Certain 1916'

"The year 1916 promises to be an excellent one as far as building is concerned: Building activities indicate the general trend of the business world, and I look forward to a wonderful year of prosperity I base my remarks upon fact. Under usual conditions in years past, the critical period in the lumber business occured between the First of December and the First of March. It was not until April that the building and lumber business became normal. Howewver, building in the east bay cities is showing a wonderful impetus, and as this is four months in advance of the usual time, I look forward to a year of great prosperity." From a statement yesterday by E. M. Tilden, president of the Tilden Lumber company of this city.

Despite the fact that lumber prices in excess of the usual rate. Building activity is going forward in Richmond and vicinity at a most remarkable pace.

The cause for the increase in the price of the lumber is the fact that the Oregon lumber mills are cutting but 45 per cent of their normal figure. Failure to get vessels to carry the lumber is responsible for the necessity of reducing the size of the cut. During the past six weeks, six carriers, with a capacity of 20,000,000 feet of lumber have been withdrawn from the lumber route. These include the Fort Bragg and Sea Foam, recently taken over by the Standard Oil company.

Tilden announced yesterday that his company had secured contracts for lumber for the new soap factory at Berkeley; the Shredded Wheat Biscuit company in Oakland; the replanking of municipal wharves at Berkeley and other large contracts.

"The demand for lumber exceeds the demand in many years past," said Tilden. "Large orders in the lumber business means prosperity in other business. Prospects for 1916 are certainly the brightest in many years."

Tilden is in a position to give accurate information on the business stuation. His statement will belie the pessimistic stories set afloat that "business on the Pacific Coast would be dead after the close of the Expositon."

Tilden is a conservative business man and his remarks are based on facts.

S. F. LABOR NEWS

There is a noticable improvement in trade conditions in San Francisco,(according to reports of many business agents of local unions, who say that while there are a large number of unemployed men and women in San Francisco, still there is general improvement in business conditions and that everything points to a prosperous year in 1916.

In the metal trades industry, particularly, where boilermakers and moulders are employed now than for some time previous and there is every reason to believe that an increased number will shortly be able to furnish the men desired for some time to come without bringing in labor from other cities.

With the closing of the Exposition an increased number of teamsters and drivers of motor trucks have been given empolyment removing exhibits and material from the Exposition.

The United Laborer's Union will shortly put a large number of its unemployed members to work wrecking the Exposition buildings. Quite a number of skilled building mechanics will also find employment on the Exposition grounds, although the number of unemployed building mechanics is greater than that other trades. However, it is believed that the building industry will boom with the coming of spring. There are already enough building mechanics in San Francisco to more than take care of all work in sight.

The Christmas trade in the downtown stores is responsible for the employment of additional salesmen. The proposed work on the Hetch-Hetchy water system and the construction of the Twin Peaks tunnel will give employment to a large number of men.

While labor leaders are optimistic regarding the future they are advising trade unionists and other wage earners not to come to San Francisco in search of employment until further notice.

THINGS THAT PAIN US

The nut who insists that arich gink has just as many worries as a poor stiff.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

Vallejo among other things has a mayor?

Carlton Stetson is planning to purchase a new lid?

We have a city midwinter league?

Al childs is growing handsomere every day?

We are actually paid for writing this kind of bunk?

Martinez still occupies a place on the map?

Why, we haven't the slightest id. ea.

JITNEY KINK SILENT

What has be come of Denny Jehosaphat Healey, the kink of the jitney chasers? There is something radically wrong, as Denny has not been mentioned in the Petaluma journals for some time. a Could it be that Denny has seen the error of his ways and had retired? It would be tough work getting up a sporting page without this bird as incentive for budding journalists.

Despite the opportunity to earn an honest living, many young men desire to enter the newspaper field.

OF COURSE YOU DO

Whenever you pipe some bird speeding along the boulevard with an open front effect shirt: a wrist watch; a "regular guy" lid: cloth top shoes and a diminutive pipe protruding from beneath a bunch of wool masquerading as a mustach don't you feel like just getting a big cream puk and splashing the thing right in the deah boy's eah?

IT'S A QUEER WORLD

They send some poor stiffs to the booby hatch and they let basketball and football players live.

AT THE RICHMOND

Tomorrow and Tuesady for matinee and evening "The Clansman" with its hundreds of remarkable scenes and its wonderful play of passion and pathos and patriotism will pass before the eyes of the Richmond public at the Richmond theater. Already the sale of seats has indicated the most stupendous attendance ever seen at any production in Richmond.

No photo drama of today is more deserving of this public interest than "The Clansman." In every particular it is the photo drama supreme of the modern picture producers are. It surpasses every other play in some feature on other, either in the prolixity of the scenes and the wonderful variety of settings, or in the sweetness of its romance or the world of passions which it exists in the hearts of the spectators.

The picture, complete with special orchestra and chorus is to be in Richmond for the performance of Monday and Tuesday. Its coming has been anticipated for over a week and it is safe to say the response to the event will be unprecedented.

CLANSMAN OPENS AT THE RICHMOND TOMORROW

Vaudeville will again take first place at the Richmond theater today, with a headliner act put on by Totito and company a remarkable company of eccentric acrobatic comedian imported direct from the big circuits. They put over some of the features and are sure pleasures.

Then there will be Williams & Watson in acomedy act. One of the best things about the act will be the singing and talking comedy which will be interested with dancing.

A social attempt has been made by Kays & Barry to produce real whirlwind dancing and they have succeeded in an extraordinary degree. The act is a thriller from start to finish.

For those who love good singing Bessie Clayton will appear with a song feature in which she will render a number of late popular ballads. The program will conslude with four of the best obtainable pictures from the Mutual program.
